The Statistics Are Frightening

5,870 people died in car crashes in 2008 alone. The same statistics revealed that 515,000 people were injured in various car crashes in the United States. Around 28 percent of all crashes in 2008 were caused by drivers in the 18 - 29 age group, who admitted to texting while driving.

81% of the US population admits to resorting to texting while driving even though they know the dangers.

AAA found that the risk for a car accident increases by 50% for those who text while driving.

Texting while driving is even more dangerous than drunk driving

My Safe Driver Pledge

I respect the lives of my friends, my family, people driving on the road and myself.

I understand that being a distracted driver can cause life threatening accidents to myself and others in my car and people on the road.

I pledge never, ever to text or use a cell phone while driving.

I pledge to be vigilant about safety in my car including using seat belts and obeying driving laws.

I understand that, no matter how capable a driver I think I am, accidents happen and I can die.

I make this pledge to myself and to all those on the road for whose lives I am responsible.
